

Excellent Research leads to Excellent Publications.

Invited talk on;

RESEARCH METHODOLOGY AND TECHNICAL WRITING

by

Professor Brian J. d'Auriol

Sunday December 10, 2017

15:30

#109, Gwang Gae to Building,
Sejong University, Seoul, South Korea

Brian J. d'Auriol received the BSc(CS) and Ph.D. degrees from the University of New Brunswick (Canada) in 1988 and 1995, respectively. He has held various research and professorial appointments and positions in computer sciences and engineering at: SUNY Korea, Kyung Hee University, Korea; Ohio Supercomputer Center, The University of Texas at El Paso, The University of Akron, and Wright State University, USA; University of Manitoba, University of New Brunswick, Canada. He has organized and chaired the CIC2000-CIC2008 international conferences in the USA and HPCS'97 international symposium in Canada as well as being involved in varying capacities with many other international venues. He has published over 90 peer-reviewed papers in international journals and conferences. His research includes Human Visualization Studies and advanced all-optical parallel computing models.